STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

63M+

MSMEs in India facing payment, contract, or delivery disputes annually

~70%

of commercial disputes abandoned before resolution — not unwinnable, just unorganised

₹10K+

typical first-hour lawyer cost just to explain the situation — before any legal advice is given

3–6 wk

average time between dispute arising and first coherent written account being prepared

"Documents are in three WhatsApp chats, two email threads, and a folder I can't find. I don't even know what's useful."

— Business owner, field interview, Pune 2026

WITHOUT NYAYOS

- × Timeline reconstructed verbally, from memory
- × Documents scattered across devices and apps
- × Lawyer charges ₹10K+ to map the situation
- × Contradictions go unnoticed until court
- × Most parties give up before taking action

WITH NYAYOS

- ✓ Confirmed date-by-date timeline with sources
- ✓ Evidence categorised and linked to facts
- ✓ Lawyer receives a structured brief, not a story

63M+

MSMEs in India — primary addressable market

₹32L Cr

value locked in disputed B2B transactions annually (est.)

1.5M+

commercial cases pending in Indian district courts

of disputes currently reach any formal resolution mechanism

Why now

- MSME Facilitation Councils mandate pre-filing conciliation — parties need structured briefs to participate
- WhatsApp penetration means evidence exists; the gap is organisation, not creation
- ODR infrastructure maturing — IBBI, SEBI, RBI all piloting — but onboarding requires structured dispute packages
- Legal tech remains lawyer-facing; the pre-lawyer layer is unserved
